Wednesday, November 3 Indigenous Connections and Collections

View Online: bit.ly/IPCC-library

In recognition of Native American Heritage Month, we'll celebrate Native films and books. We'll also honor Native American warriors to commemorate Veterans Day.

Saturday, November 6, 1-3PM Native American Student Art Show Opening Reception

Artists Circle Gallery

This annual exhibition was established in 1979 to encourage creativity among Native youth, and to help them recognize that the future preservation and evolution of Native culture lies with them. This year, entries focus on COVID-19 and how young people used art as a way of healing and processing their feelings about the effects the pandemic had on them, their families, and their communities. The show runs through January 8, 2022. Free for members, or with museum admission.

Saturday, November 6 & Sunday, November 7, 9AM-2PM Pueblo SEEDSS Traditional Foods Workshop

Silver & Turquoise Rooms at IPCC

To register, contact Shannon Romero at shromero@indianpueblo.org.

IPCC created the Pueblo SEEDSS Program (Sowing Ecological Education for Delivering Sustainable Stewardship) as a way to teach and promote sustainable agricultural practices, traditional cooking methods, and healthy lifestyles within Native communities. Our last Pueblo SEEDSS workshop of the year will include traditional foods presentations and demonstrations.

Saturday, November 6, 9AM-2PM Pueblo SEEDSS Youth Conference, Co-hosted with Flower Hill Institute IPCC Classroom (North of Campus)

To register, contact Shannon Romero at shromero@indianpueblo.org.

The Cultural Education Team and the Flower Hill Institute will host our Third Youth Conference for the Pueblo SEEDSS Program. This month's activities will focus on Traditional Ecological Knowledge on traditional foods. Breakfast and lunch will be provided, and participants will receive a FREE take-home garden kit. Space is limited to 30 young people, ages 7 to 16.

Tuesday, November 9, 2-4PM Pueblo Book Club -Termination And Re-Location: Federal Indian Policy, 1945-1960

By Donald L. Fixaco (Shawnee, Sac, Fox, Muscogee Creek, Seminole)

Zoom Webinar: bit.ly/IPCC-bookclub
Or attend in person in IPCC's Chaco III Room

Each year, the U.S. commemorates Native American/Alaska Native Heritage Month in November. For some, it's a time of remembrance of the legacy and culture of U.S. Indigenous peoples. For others, it is a time to learn the untold narrative of the struggles and the resiliency of the Indigenous peoples. Termination And Re-Location: Federal Indian Policy, 1945 - 1960 is a reflective exposé of policies drafted to further integrate the Indian population with mainstream America—policies that didn't seek Native input or account for how societal constructs would contribute to its controversial outcomes.

Thursday, November 11, 10AM-2PM Veterans Day IPCC Courtyard

Join us as we honor those who served our country. We'll start the day with Flutist Adrian Wall of Jemez Pueblo performing the National Anthem, followed by the Posting of Colors by the Acoma Pueblo Legion Post #116. We'll also have guest speakers, a special presentation on Native American veterans, and performances by two Pueblo dance groups. Pueblo cookies and coffee will be offered to veterans in the morning. Free for veterans and members, or with museum admission.

Saturday, November 13, 9AM-4PM Pueblo Santa's Holiday Market IPCC Courtyard

Bring the family and kick off the holiday season with IPCC's first Pueblo Santa's Holiday Market. Meet and shop directly from 24 Native artists and enjoy performances by two Pueblo dance groups in our courtyard. We'll also have storytelling with Emmett Garcia (Santa Ana, Jemez) at noon and an arts and crafts table for children in the afternoon. Plus, get your picture taken with Pueblo Santa! Free for members, or with museum admission.

Monday, November 15 & Tuesday, November 16 IPIE Film and TV Virtual Workshop with Red Nation: Who Tells the Story Matters

Register in advance: bit.ly/IPCC-filmTV
The Indian Pueblo Cultural Center and Red Nation are joining together to present a FREE, two-day virtual workshop on the importance of having native voices and points of view represented in filmmaking and television production. Our panel discussion is for aspiring filmmakers in New Mexico and will be live-streamed to participants across the state.

Saturday, November 20, 10AM-2PM Rock Your Mocs IPCC Courtyard

Virtual Social Media Event
November 15-21: @IndianPueblo

Break out your moccasins for a worldwide celebration of Indigenous cultures. This annual event was founded in New Mexico by Jessica Jaylyn Atsye (Laguna), who sought to unite Native American, Aboriginal, First Nations, Alaskan Native, and Indigenous peoples globally by encouraging participants to wear their moccasins for a day. Come and show off your mocs at our photo wall, then share your picture online with the hashtag #RockYourMocs. You can also meet Jaylyn and enjoy a moccasin-making demonstration! Free for members, or with museum admission.

IPCC is also raffling off two pairs of moccasins in honor of our 45th anniversary—just in time for our Rock Your Mocs celebration. Purchase your tickets at our Guest Experience desk by November 12th.

Wednesday, November 17 Counter Narrative, Now a Monthly Podcast

Over the years, Indigenous representation has been seen through photography. Archival photos are a tool to examine the past, but when inauthentic portrayals are used, they can be harmful to our culture and self-identity. This month's program will focus on the importance of using photography as a medium of cultural preservation, current events, and artistic expression—captured in a single frame. Listen on Anchor and all major podcast apps.

Sunday, November 21, 11AM-1PM Seasons of Growth: Grandma's Kitchen IPCC Classroom (North of Campus)

Join us for our last Seasons of Growth event of the year. Our theme is "Grandma's Kitchen," and we will celebrate our last learning series with traditional foods presentations and demonstrations. The cost of this event is $25 per person and can be paid on the day of the event at our Guest Experience Desk. The fee will cover tamale-making supplies and ingredients to make a half-dozen tamales to take home. Space is limited to 30 participants, ages 10 and older.

Saturday, November 27 View into the Collection Zoom Webinar: bit.ly/IPCC-collections

Join Amy Johnson, Curator of Collections, for an in-depth look at artwork and cultural items from our Permanent Collection. We celebrate Native American Heritage Month with a look at a variety of contemporary works of art by Pueblo, Hopi, and Navajo artists.
